Call For Journal Articles

Nepal Journal of Science, Health and Technology (NJSHT) is a multi-disciplinary open access, peer reviewed journal that intends to publish articles from academicians, scientists, researchers and practitioners. It anticipates to publish primary articles (original research articles, case reports/case series, and technical notes), secondary articles (narrative and systematic reviews), special articles (letters to the editor, correspondences, short communications, editorials, commentaries, and pictorial essays). It is managed by the Faculty of Science, Health and Technology (FoSHT), Nepal Open University.

NJSHT, invites for the journal articles for its first ever volume:
